

Electricity Retailers - Large Customers

Only companies which are appropriately licensed can retail electricity to Queensland businesses and residents.

It is important to note that retailers, not the Queensland Government, will decide who they want to make offers to. A licensed retailer may choose not to offer market contracts to customers of a particular type or size, or in a particular location – that's the retailer's commercial decision.

Companies that currently hold a Queensland electricity retail authority and have indicated they may offer negotiated contracts¹ to large² customers, including commercial and industrial customers, are listed below in alphabetical order.
